Orcas Island Library

Tech Made Simple

Free Classes for the Non-Tech Savvy

Tuesday, 10am-noon

November Class Schedule

Smart Phones and Tablets
(Tuesday Nov. 7 April 11, 10am to noon, Orcas Island Library)

Smart phones, those little computers in our pocket, have been with us for 10 years. They have transformed the way we interact with each other and the world at large. From information to entertainment, smart phones and their related cousins, Tablets, are revolutionary and confusing. This class will de-mystify some of the confusing parts like what the difference is between a smart phone and tablet, what a mobile device is vs. a laptop, what does it mean to 'synch content across devices' and how do I do that. This class is for the 'non-tech savvy'. Offered for free to the community, everyone is welcome. Presented by RockTech Trainers, these interactive classes are fun and informative

Using a Web Browsers
(Tuesday, Nov. 14, 10am to noon, Orcas Island Library)

Get the most out of you web browser-- be it Safari, Chrome, Bing or Firefox.. We will discuss how to make the best use of the tools and settings including stop pop-ups, use tabs, favorites, bookmarks and clear history. And we will touch on all sorts of wizardry in the technical world including terminology, websites, URLs, extensions and so forth. Offered for free at the Library, everyone is welcome. Presented by RockTech Trainers, these interactive classes designed for the 'non-tech savvy' are fun and informative! No sign up required.

Online Security and Password, Free Class
(Tuesday, Nov. 21, 10am to noon, Orcas Island Library)

This class will focus on forming good online habits which includes how to easily manage all those darn passwords. Learn how to create secure passwords and get tips on how to organize them. We will also discuss what to avoid online, how to spot security issues you may run across and how to secure yourself and your family from attacks. Malicious Software that tries to steel your computer and data, known as Malware, is on the rise. We will discuss malware prevention and response if you see something that does not look right. Offered for free, no sign up required, just come to the Library, everyone is welcome. Presented by RockTech Trainers, these interactive classes are fun and informative for the 'non-tech savvy'

Android Phone Photography
(Tuesday, Nov. 28, 10am to noon, Orcas Island Library)

Who knew that Apple would significantly alter the world of photography with the cell phone camera? The ability create a photo quickly and see the results instantly is a fundamental change for all of us. Today's phones have very capable cameras that have a lot of features that are not obvious or easy to find. In this class we will explore what can be done with the your android phone camera beyond the click! . Specifically designed for the 'non-tech savvy', the class is offered for free at the Library, everyone is welcome. Presented by RockTech, Tech Made Simple classes are interactive fun and informative.